World Future Energy Summit

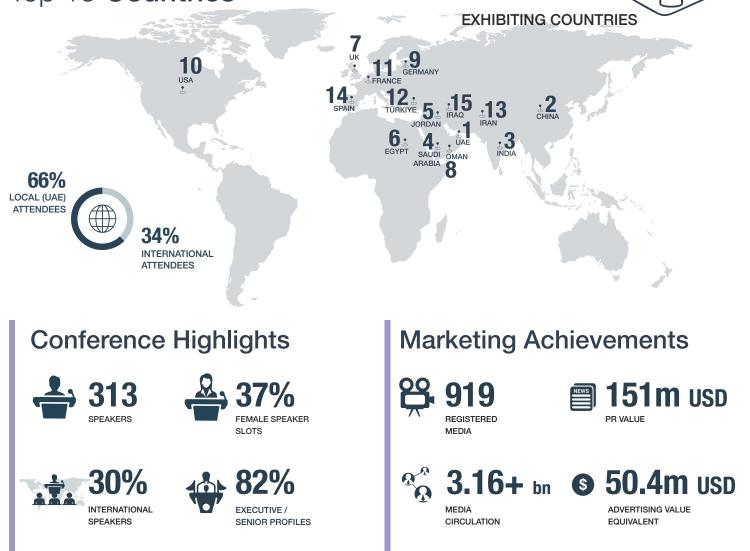

The 2025 edition of the World Future Energy Summit marked a historic milestone, achieving record-breaking numbers across multiple aspects of the event.

This year saw significant growth, with expanded exhibition space, a larger number of exhibiting companies, and an increase in both buyer attendance and media coverage. Notably, the summit also witnessed its highest levels of female participation, the largest number of startups showcasing their innovations, and a record-breaking lineup of international speakers. Additionally, overall attendance reached new heights, surpassing all previous editions in its history.
